> Pure Wines. Washington, June 8th .- The committee of the Medical Society of the District of Columbia, through its Chairman, Dr. Gar-Columbia, through its Chairman, Dr. Oar-nett, has begun its investigation of the bills vital force has been greatly lessened by a relating to pure wines, intending to act relating to pure wines, intending to act promptly in urging the passage of the measure to protect consumers against spurious and adulterated wines. Dr. Garnett is also interested in securing the passage of an appropriation to defray the expenses of entertaining next year the International Medical Congress, which meets in Washngton, Dr. Garnett being the Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements. No action will be taken this week by the Senate Finance Committee on the wine bills. In the meanwhile the Secretary of the Treasury has been requested by the committee to suggest any change that may, in his opinion, be necessary to render the measures operative if enacted. The adverse report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and research as the Secretary of the Secretary in the Secretary of the Secretary in enue was stopped yesterday in the Secre-tary's office, and sent back for a further examination with respect to changes that might be made to satisfy the department.

Pacific Coast Improvements. WASHINGTON, June 8th .- The Senate yesterday passed Mr. Morrow's two bills providing for the building of a light-house at San Luis Obispo and Point Sur, consolidated as one bill, and amended so as to provide for several other light-houses on the eastern coast. A committee of conference will be appointed by the House if the Commerce Committee does not approve of the amendments. Mr. Morrow will be on the committee of conference on the part of the House, and will thus retain all the imovements desired for the Pacific coast.

CALLING A HALT. There is going up in many quarters a howl against the Supreme Court of the State. We can denominate it no more respectfully than that. It is based upon test against the folly and madness of these removal of the Judges. The Supreme trines it advances may be combatted, and of a Court of the land ought to proboldly. But this people cannot do themselves greater injury than to encourage of law as the majority or the dominant what many, in their hot haste, are doing. nguage of many journalistic advocates "the Court, as now constituted, is an obstruction to the progress of the State." corruption, boss rule, the whip and gag, papers, and it has a strangely uniform baracter, as if it flowed from the same ource in each case. Now, we submit to the thoughtful men of the day that such a course is the equivalent of madness. If we are to give out the impression that we elect Judges who decide to suit our prethe judiciary system altogether. The language quoted implies just this: "Judges must be chosen who are first pledged to decide the irrigation issues in a particular way." Of course no self-respecting citizen would trust a candidate for a Judgeship out of sight with his ash bucket who advance what his decisions would be on particular issues if elected. The rule of the dynamite Anarchists would be safer, better and altogether more desirable than such a state of society as would permit the selection of the judiciary according to such a code. We must demand that respect he shown the Courts, for in so doing we simply command respect for the system of government under which we live, and under which all our rights are agree with the Courts, and hold their decisions to be error, to fail in the essential of looking beyond the laws to the purpose of the law, it is the duty of good citizens to bow to their decisions. THE San Francisco Bulletin very suc cinctly reviews the story of Republican discontent and rivalry in San Francisco. It contents itself with the statement of general facts; perhaps it is well that no analysis of the underlying schemes and plots of the contending boss factions be attempted just now. It is enough to know that there has been internecine tribulation that rent the party in twain; that is, so far as boss followings were concerned. As to how badly this conflict has affected the masses of the party no one knows. We very much fear that the masses know very little about it and care less. If only they knew more of the inside workings and cared a good deal more, there would be greater hope for "the party of intelliradical dissent from an interpretation of the gence." But the Bulletin recites that the law of water rights by the majority of the State Central Committee having named Decemvirs to hold the boss factions apart and self-respect if we did not enter a pro- while the file of the party makes an effort to express itself, the question arises, Will insane declarations and demands for the they do it? the political organization. THE debate before the Penological Comission yesterday at the Capitol, on the question of convict labor, developed the fact anew that it is a very broad question, much involved and exceedingly difficult of solution. The Federated Trades representatives had perfectly clear views on the subject. They want no labor done in prison that in any way competes with free labor, because just to that extent the latter is unduly taxed and placed at a disadvantage, against which it cannot rally. More than this, they want no convicts taught trades, they claiming that the State's duty is done when it secures, houses and keeps in fair physical health the State prisoners. To all questions concerning the need of some labor to the prisoners' welfare and reformation, the best you can, but their labor must be unproducts of free labor in this State." All others who gave expression to their views were solicitous that the prisoners should be employed, believed the product of such labor should not be thrown into competition with the product of free labor, but were at sea upon the question of methods to the accomplishment of this end. It was very evidently a question which divided the mind of each hearer against itself. Yet there were men bold enough to declare that idleness could not be toler ated in prison, and that reform being the purpose of imprisonment, that the criminal may not be turned anew against society on discharge, labor in prison must be

I will here give you the facts of the case, and you can rely upon them as the truth:

On Saturday, May 29th, there was a warrant issued from Justice Roney's Court of Big valley for the arrest of Mrs. A. R. Kohne, and one R. Gibbins, for grand larceny. The above-named parties are accused of driving off and offering for sale about seventy-five head of cattle which are upor the Richmond estate and claimed by Mrs. Kohne. The examination was set for Monday, June 7th. Gibbins was discharged on motion of counsel for the defendants, as he was hired by her to assist in driving the stock, and she was willing to take the responsibility. The Colony System.

Fresno county owes much of its prosper ity to its colony system—or the subdivision of large bodies of land into ten and twentyacre tracts. When it was first proposed the scheme was looked at derisively by old settlers, and by the farmers of the State generally. These people used to predict that anyone who attempted to make a iving on twenty acres of land would starve to death. "Why," they said, "here we have been farming a quarter section of land, our neighbors from that amount up to a section, and we have barely made a living, and yet you propose to settle a man and family down on a twenty-acre tract!

In spite of these malevolent predictions however, the colony lots were sold off to people, who, as a rule, had nothing but willing hands and a determination to win as their capital. These people went to work in a small way. The cultivation of irrigated land was new to them, and they made many failures, but they persevered. They had determined to succeed, and they mately did. These little farms planted in fruit trees, vines and alfalfa, in a short time yielded them a handsome response, and success, instead of failure, as predicted has been their reward. They have made money, and put away some of it for a rainy day; their property has enhanced in value, and they have now comfortable homes, environed with trees and vines.—Expositor.

GRAND MARSHAL'S Proclamation!

HEADQUARTERS GRAND MARSHAL,

CAPITAL HOTEL, Sacramento, June 8, 1886.

TO THE PUBLIC!

ASSUMING THE POSITION OF GRANI Marshal for the commemoration of the One Hundred and Tenth Anniversary of our National Holiday I cannot be unmindful of the honor conferred, and take this first opportunity to extend to the Executive Committee having in keeping all arrangements my profound acknowledgments for the confidence reposed and the compliment conveyed. I have accepted the position in firm belief that I shall have the undivided and hearty co-operation and untiring efforts of the citizens of Sacramento and the surrounding country to aid me and the Commitefforts of the citizens of Sacramento and the surrounding country to aid me and the Committees in making the celebration this year at least equal in enthusiasm and popularity to like occasions of the past. I am fully impressed with the responsibilities devolving on one selected to conduct the celebration to a satisfactory termination, and did I not feel that I would be cordially aided in my efforts by all alike I should not permit myself to join in what would prove a failure did not each one add his efforts to the common good. But I know that the citizens of Sacramento are always patriotic, and that they failure did not each one add his efforts to the common good. But I know that the citizens of Sacramento are always patriotic, and that they gladly look forward to the annual return of the Fourth of July as the day above all others in the year to be observed as a festive occasion, its memories suggesting the myriads of blessings for which we should always be grateful, and which no condition or circumstance in life should allow us to forget. It is in an especial manner the epoch period in the lexicon of the youth of America. Hence, in every part of the broad Union the young as well as the old should join hearts and hands in its due observance, and make of it what was anticipated by the Revolutionary patriot when he exclaimed, "We will make of it a day of bonfires, festivities and universal rejoicing." Therefore, I ask one and all to lend their assistance on that day, by closing up all business and joining in the general jubilee. It is but one day in the year and why not observe it? I bespeak for the merchants of this city their energetic assistance in decorating the city, adding to the column and making the display a memorable pageant.

To the citizens of the surrounding towns and counties I would say, they are heartily bidden to the city's feast on that day, and they will be hospitably welcomed by our citizens. All organizations outside the city will be given place in the line, on application to Headquarters.

I will take occasion at an early day to publish a list of gentlemen who will be requested to act as Aids. In this connection let me entertain the hope that those who are invited will respond heartily to the call, and make some sacrifice for a few hours of the day, as the cavalcade of the Aids is a prominent feature of the Procession.

I have appointed R. M. CLARKEN as my Chief of Staff, and he will be found at Headquarters at all times.

I have established Headquarters at the Capital Headquarters at the capital contents about the surface of the su uarters at all times.

I have established Headquarters at the Capal Hotel, where all communications should be JAMES MCNASSER.

GENERAL NOTICES.

A vigorous growth of hair is promoted and the color restored by applying Parker's Parker's Tonic is the best cure for coughs and Cream and Cold Weather.

What a luxury is a bath in summer. Surely, but a greater luxury is a clear head in winter, just when almost everybody is sneezing and snuffling with a cold in the head. When you are attacked use Ely's Cream Balm. It cures colds in the head, and what is better, it cures the worst cases of Chronic Catarrh and Hay Fever. Not a liquid, not a snuff. Pleasant to use. Quick relief. Radical cure. d7-lyMWF Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy fordiarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. No renorm movement was created with more public favor, or spread with more rapidity through the world, than "child-saving" in its now varied forms. No reform movement was ever received Commencing in 1781 with the Sunday-school, intended originally for the vagrant school, and no city of any prominence the civilized world is without its "chile saving," offshoot of the original Sunday school. These schools, or homes, or aids are generally private, and the objection might be urged that they are dependent for cuniary success on precarious private arity. The natural home is nature's houses or elsewhere. Of all institutions fo the care of dependent children, that of the Michigan State School is the most desirable, in my judgment, to model after. Here all the dependent children of the State are cared for. They are kept but about eleven months, on the average, costing only $140

Miscellaneous Loans. 8,000 10,600 4,000 52,70 $123,450

The amount is about the same as for the previous week. The largest loan in the whole line was $22,000 for two years at 6 per cent., by the Hibernia Bank. All the loans by that bank were at 6 per cent. Some of the loans by the other savings banks were at 6½@7. The loans from miscellaneous parties were at 5@8, and most of them were at 7. The largest loan in this list was $10,000 for four and a half months at 62 er cent. The building associations are generally getting 7@8 per cent. but the borrowers participate in the earnings, and thus get a rebate of interest. The rates for con. C. bent., though most of the regular patrons of he banks are readily accommodated at 7, and on prime securities 6 per cent, is ac-septed. There is a good demand for ex-

FRUIT—The prevalence of warm weather for the past day or two has caused an increased demand for all kinds, and stocks pass from first hands with more freedom. White Cherries are wanted by canners, and this circumstance keeps values for this particular article somewhat firm. The white variety is also in request to a moderate extent for shipping purposes. Apples and Pears are coming to hand rather liberally, and many consignments are more suited for table use than heretofore, being of riper condition. Some few Blackberries have been received, but they are inferior and find no custom. Gooseberries have been plentiful for a week and prices have ruled favorably for consumers.
